BY DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

Washington, Aug. 9. (AP)—The congressional spy hearings reopened today with mystery witnesses Alexander Korol and two men accused of feeding wartime secrets to a Red espionage network standing by to testify.

Still another much-wanted witness is out of reach in the Soviet consulate in New York. But the House committee on un-American activities awaited word as to whether a formal demand could be made for her appearance.

Acting Chairman Mundt (R-S. D.) said a committee agent is ready with a subpoena for Mrs. Oksana Stepanovna Kosenkina if the state department rules that diplomatic immunity does not extend down to consulates.

Mrs. Kosenkina, who has been teaching at a school for Russian children in New York, is the key figure in a row among White and Red Russians. The Soviet consulate says it rescued her from the White Russians, who wanted to prevent her return to the U. S. S. R. The White Russians say the woman came to them for refuge and in fear of her life, only to be taken away to the consulate Saturday against her desires.

Mundt says he doesn't know the truth about the affair. But he said the committee would like to question Mrs. Kosenkina because he understands she is willing to talk about all phases of Soviet "intrigue" in this country.

Meanwhile, the case of a second Russian school teacher, who passed up his scheduled return to the Soviet Union and, in addition, took his story to the FBI also held the committee's attention.

Mundt said he will call Michael

Ivanovitch Samarin for questioning "if we can find him."

Mundt's assertion came after he had received a report that Samarin had given himself up to the FBI. The FBI acknowledged that the teacher had appeared at bureau headquarters in New York yesterday and asked for an interview.

The FBI spokesman insisted Samarin was not being held in custody but added: "I'm sure he can be found if he is wanted."

Samarin and his family had been scheduled to sail for Russia last month on the same boat as Mrs. Kosenkina. The Soviet consul general said Saturday that Samarin was staying at a White Russian retreat in New Jersey but that the consulate intended to "take steps" to get him started back home.

Kefauver, above, in winning the Democratic nomination for the Senate in Tennessee, dealt a hard blow at Boss Ed Crump's 20-year reign as kingpin of that state's politics. A bitter opponent of Crump, Kefauver led the anti-boss slate to a smashing triumph, with Crump's man finishing third. The Crump-supported gubernatorial candidate also lost.

Situation In Palestine Tense, Says Bernadotte

By EDWARD CURTIS

Rhodes, Aug. 9. (AP)—Count Folke Bernadotte says "there are rumors of impending coups by irregular elements" in Palestine.

"These irregular elements," the United Nations mediator said yesterday, "are alleged to be uncontrollable, or to be used as spearheads of regular forces."

He urged the demilitarization of Jerusalem as the "best remedy for this tense situation."

Bernadotte did not identify these "irregular elements," his statement was interpreted here to mean the Jewish extremist organization Irgun Zvai Leumi.

Officially, Irgun has been absorbed into the Israeli army. But Irgun forces have clashed with Haganah units. Irgun demands all of Trans-Jordan and Palestine for the Jews.

Of the general Palestine situation, Bernadotte said:

"On a government level both sides desire to continue the peace. An adequate supervision is all the more necessary as there are signs of tension resulting from a lack of trust in the good faith of the other party, and from a fear that hostilities may shortly be resumed despite the truce ordered by the security council."

Bernadotte said both Arabs and Jews have agreed to begin talks "with a view to making arrangements to keep Jerusalem out of the conflict."

Ore Boat And Ferry Collide At Detroit

Car Loaded With Malt Rolls Into River

Detroit, Aug. 9. (AP)—Two vessels collided in pre-dawn darkness on the Detroit river today.

Crew members escaped harm but a loaded railroad freight car went to the bottom of the river, a link in the Great Lakes chain. The car, loaded with malt, rolled off the tracks of a Wabash railroad ferry at the jolt and plunged into the water.

Seven other cars on the ferry were bumped off the tracks as the ferry and the freighter E. M. Saunders of the Midland Steamship Co. of Cleveland collided.

Both the ferry and freighter suffered damage to their bows. Guarding against any possible navigation hazard, the Coast Guard marked the spot of the submerged freight car with buoys and set about trying to remove it. The freighter, carrying 10,000 tons of ore from Superior, Wis. to Cleveland, was proceeding at about ten knots at the moment of the collision, Capt. Harry Miller said. Miller said he sighted the ferry when the vessels were about 1500 feet apart.

The names will be submitted to President Truman for appointment. Sigler said he expected to complete nomination of the balance of the board members within a few days.

Nearly all of the nominees served on draft boards during World War II, the governor said.

The flight was "just like sitting at home in your own living room," said the pilot, Maj. Richard L. Johnson, 30-year-old test pilot from Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio.

He shot the Air Force's newest Jet Fighter, North American's F-86, across the field for its first showing in public.

The official speed record for any type of plane is listed as 650.7 miles per hour.

A loudspeaker announced the speed as better than 650 M. P. H. as Johnson zoomed past. No arrangements for official timing had been made, however.

INCOMES FATTENED
Washington, Aug. 9. (AP)—The personal income of Americans climbed to an annual rate of $211,900,000,000 in June, a record high, the commerce department reported today. The sharp increase centered in factory pay checks.

Best Friends Urge President To Sign Pair Of GOP Bills

BY JACK BELL

Washington, Aug. 9. (AP)—Some of his best friends in Congress urged President Truman today to sign the Republican housing and credit control.

They were passed by the special session which quit Saturday night after 13 days of political in-fighting on Capitol Hill.

Senator Hatch of New Mexico, chairman of the Democratic campaign speakers committee, told a reporter:

"Inadequate as these measures are, I still think they represent some advantage over what we have now and I hope the president signs them."

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the assistant Democratic leader, said he feels the president will be "compelled" to sign them.

"But I am sure that when he does, he will be able to tell the country just how inadequate and how meager they are," Lucas declared.

Fuel For Campaign

There were indications that when he gets around to acting on the measures, Mr. Truman will do just that. His party members expect the president to use blistering language in describing the Republicans' refusal to give him the price-wage and rationing controls he said are necessary to bring down the high cost of living.

But the Republicans had a ready answer to anything Mr. Truman might say about inflation—a contention that he has hampered congressional investigations into Communist activities in the government.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.), who headed one of the inquiry committees, put it on the line with a charge in the Senate's closing session that the president had thrown up "an iron curtain between Congress and the public business."

The Michigan senator said his committee's investigation had been stopped by Mr. Truman's refusal to permit government agencies to turn over records of persons accused of Communist activities.

"Congress," Ferguson shouted to his colleagues, "is rapidly being pushed into the intolerable position of having either to legislate through a blind spot or compel the president to answer for his conduct."

Burned Man Saved By Detroit Firemen

Detroit, Aug. 9. (AP)—A large crowd watched Sunday while firemen rescued a burned man from the top floor of the 19-story David Whitney building in downtown Detroit.

Police said Joseph Hammell, 47, touched off the blaze by applying an electric buffer to the floor of a laboratory which had been cleaned with naphtha or gasoline.

Hammell suffered burns on his face, neck and back.

Local Draft Boards Appointed by Sigler

Lansing, Aug. 9. (AP)—Governor Sigler nominated members of 80 per cent of the 102 local draft boards which will administer the new selective service for Michigan.

All counties will have at least one board. Wayne county will have 16 boards, Oakland three, and Genesee and Kent two each.

The names will be submitted to President Truman for appointment. Sigler said he expected to complete nomination of the balance of the board members within a few days.

Nearly all of the nominees served on draft boards during World War II, the governor said.

The flight was "just like sitting at home in your own living room," said the pilot, Maj. Richard L. Johnson, 30-year-old test pilot from Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio.

Truman Not Sure He Has Found New Labor Secretary

Washington, Aug. 9. (AP)—President Truman appears to be in the dark today over whether he actually has found a Secretary of Labor.

In a surprise move just before the special session adjourned Saturday night, Mr. Truman nominated former Gov. Maurice J. Tobin of Massachusetts.

But Tobin, who is seeking to regain the governorship, has refused so far to say whether he will accept.

Congress quit without Senate action on any of the more than 100 nominations submitted by Mr. Truman, including that of Tobin as a successor to Lewis B. Schwellenbach, who died June 10.

Tobin said at Gilbertville, Mass., yesterday:

"I am still a candidate for governor in the course of the next few days and beyond that I have nothing to say."

Tobin, 47, said he agreed to let his name be submitted to the Senate. He added, however, that the question of actual acceptance still is "under consideration."

The GOP leadership had announced almost at the outset of the session that there would be no action on nominations.

Others which had been submitted included those of:

Elmer H. Wene, former Democratic representative from New Jersey, to be assistant secretary of agriculture.

Thomas C. Blaisdell, Jr., to be assistant secretary of commerce.

Warren R. Austin, John Foster Dulles, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and Philip C. Jessup, to represent this country at the forthcoming U. N. general assembly in Paris.

Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey to be director of Selective Service.

Steelworker Defies Officers, Kills Two

Bullets End Life Of Man In Barricaded Home

Youngstown, Pa., Aug. 9. (AP)—A flurry of machine gun bullets ended the life of a 36-year-old steelworker after two law enforcement officers had been shot to death outside his barricaded home in this western Pennsylvania community.

Captain Andrew J. Hudock of Pennsylvania State Police said J. Thomas Chaslin, 58, Burgess and constable of Youngstown, was shot fatally with a .303 caliber deer rifle when he tried to arrest William A. Smith Saturday night on an assault charge preferred by his wife.

Justice of the peace Eugene Murphy, 58, was slain when he ran to Chaslin's aid, Hudock said.

The state police captain said neighbors were driven to cover as they tried to rescue the two men. Meanwhile, state police were summoned and as seven officers surrounded Smith's home, he barricaded the door, defying the policemen to seize him.

An exchange of shots continued for a half hour, Hudock said, before Smith stopped firing. Policemen broke open the door and found the steelworker dead on the floor, a bullet wound in the head and another in the neck.

Moonlight Cruise Turned Into Riot, But Band Plays On

Philadelphia, Aug. 9. (AP)—A moonlight cruise aboard a Delaware river excursion steamer turned into a riot last night as crew members battled passengers—and the band played on.

When the melee had been quelled, police reported six injured persons had been taken to a hospital and nine men were under arrest.

Edgar Turk, 32, one of four special police officers attached to the S. S. Delaware Belle, gave this version of events:

Shortly after the ship left a Philadelphia pier with 1,200 passengers aboard, a youth displayed a blackjack on the dance floor and threatened Turk with the weapon.

Turk attempted to take the blackjack from him and several other youths stepped in. The three remaining special officers came to Turk's rescue and the fight was on.

The battle raged back and forth across the dance floor as the ship's dance band continued playing.

Finally, when the Delaware Belle reached Chester, Pa., Capt. Edward Savin went ashore and returned with a squad of Chester police who arrested five men. Four others were taken from the ship on its return to Philadelphia.

Invasion Of Panama Organized By Arias

Former President Raises Army In Costa Rica

BY LUIS NOLI

Panama, Panama, Aug. 9. (AP)—High government sources said today former President Arnulfo Arias Madrid is organizing an armed invasion of Panama from Costa Rica.

Arias, who fled Panama last week after being declared the loser in the May presidential elections, is working with the general staff of the Costa Rican army, these informants asserted.

A force of "foreign mercenaries," they added, "is poised to invade the country along the border zone at Puerto Armales."

Puerto Armales is in Panama, near the Costa Rican border, on the Pacific ocean.

Panama has been under a state of emergency since July 4, following an armed clash between Arias' party members and the National Police. Arias spent a fortnight in the Canal Zone after that and then returned to Panama, but fled into exile again last week, declaring that his life was in danger.

Arias is known to enjoy great popularity in Costa Rica. A border settlement he made with Costa Rica during his administration as Panama's president in 1940-41 was very popular with the Costa Ricans.

New Moon Stayings Unsolved In Britain: Three Children Die

Manchester, Eng., Aug. 9. (AP)—Four-year-old Joe Creamer was found hanging from an electric wire in the blitzed ruins of a factory here last night. He was the third Lancashire child murdered at the time of the new moon in the last six months.

Children who heard his screams saw a "youngish" man run out through a large hole in the factory wall. They ran for help. A passed-by cut down the body.

This and the two other new moon cases are still unsolved. Eleven-year-old Tuentin Smith was stabbed at Farnworth by a killer who tore off most of his clothing.

Little June Devaney, 3, was kidnapped from her bed in a Blackburn hospital and slain.

Peace Talks Kept Going In Moscow

Envoys Of Three Powers Return To Kremlin

By the Associated Press

American, British and French diplomats went to the Kremlin today in a renewed attempt to solve the Berlin blockade and other issues in the cold war. It was their third visit there in a week.

Ambassadors Walter Bedell Smith of the U. S. and Yves Chataigneau of France and Special Envoy Frank Roberts of Britain made the call, seeking to see Foreign Minister Molotov, Washington, Moscow, London and Paris all kept the strictest silence on the high level exchanges of diplomacy which might break the East-West impasse.

Premier Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium received from British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin a detailed account on the Moscow exchanges, it was reported in London. British informants said "The ball, at the moment, is with the Russians."

Molotov at the last meeting, Friday night, was reported to have been asked for his suggestions for making relations normal.

Weapons On Frontier
The British source said the Russians in the current exchanges have said blunt things about the plan of the western powers to establish a west German government.

The Berlin newspaper Telegraf reported today the Russians are building trenches and installing weapons on the border of their zone of Germany.

The British-licensed paper said Germans were being pressed into service and then warned not to talk. Watch towers, fencing and road barricades were reported being placed. The Russians held large scale army maneuvers last month in eastern Germany and increased their air force there, just as the United States did in the west.

Despite these manifestations, nothing suggested the Soviets were preparing for war. Indeed the signs pointed the other way.

The official Russian newspaper in Berlin threatened worse conditions in the blockaded city unless its anti-Communist government accedes to Russian demands that all the city come under Red control. Pravda in Moscow printed prominently an assertion that U. S. and British planes had violated air rules in the corridors to Berlin 62 times.

The U. S. sent more superfortresses to Europe, maintaining 90 of the great bombers there. Lt. Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, chief of staff of the U. S. air force, and Air Secretary W. Stuart Symington headed from London to Germany.

Budget Of $200,000 Will Improve Trout Streams In Michigan

By ROBERT E. VOGES

Lansing, (AP)—Michigan's most extensive and expensive lake and stream improvement program is in full swing this summer.

The program represents a victory for the school of conservationists which insists that stream improvement, rather than fish plantings is the best way to assure a good trout population.

This year's budget of $200,000 is the largest in history. Currently, 13 crews, working under state conservation department supervision, are doing stream improvement work. This fall they will be switched over to the work of installing lake brush shelters.

Stream improvement projects are scheduled for the middle branch of the Ontonagon river in Gogebic county, east branch of the Fox in Schoolcraft county, West branch of the Sturgeon in Cheboygan county, the Manistee in Crawford county, north branch of the Au Sable in Crawford and Otsego counties, Bear Creek in Mainsee county, White River in Newaygo county, Huron river in Washtenaw county, the Big Cedar in Menominee county, the Firesteel in Ontonagon county, the Pigeon in Cheboygan county, the Pere Marquette in Lake County and Hopkins Creek in Missaukee county.

This year the conservation department is concentrating on building permanent installations.

Each section of stream is treated as a separate problem by the conservation experts. In some places wing dams and current deflectors of concrete blocks, sheet piling and logs are being installed. With the cooperation of the ever-moving current, these installations help dig pools, speed the current, scour silt off the bottom, protect the pools and protect the stream from bank erosion.

In some places planting is being done to afford streamside cover and prevent soil erosion and cave-ins of the stream banks. Once the foliage is given a start nature takes over.

Work also will be started this summer on five dams at sites where conservation experts believe they will improve trout fishing. Proposed dam locations are the Haymarsh area in Mecosta county, Twin Lakes in Cheboygan county, Hunt Creek in Montmorency county, and Davisburg in Oakland county. Surveys still are to be completed on the site of a proposed dam on Portage Creek in the Waterloo State recreation area.

For the work this fall the department has on file recommendations for the construction of brush shelters in 67 lakes. It is estimated that each can be stocked with from 20 to 100 brush shelters. Theory of the shelters is that they help to concentrate the fish in one spot where fishermen can get at them.

The department also plans to clear all other fish out by poisoning from 17 lakes which the experts believe can be restocked to become trout lakes.

All of this represents the most ambitious lake and stream improvement program in Michigan history. The Civilian Conservation Corps did some very good work of this type during the depression days. Since that time similar projects have been carried on from year to year but never with such generous financing or on such a large scale.

This summer's project will represent a test of the effectiveness of the theories of the stream improvement conservationists as opposed to the school that believes in fish stocking exclusively.

Straits Queen Makes Visit Here Saturday

Alice West, 17 year old titan haired beauty of Marquette, who as "Miss Straits of Mackinac" will reign over the celebration marking the 25th anniversary of the Michigan State Ferry service, August 13-15 at St. Ignace was the guest of Escanaba Saturday.

Miss West was chosen from a competing field of 13 other girls from Michigan cities.

Last week Miss West and her runner-up and alternate for the Straits title, Mary Gallagher, 20, deputy county clerk of Mackinac county, toured Lower Michigan and the eastern end of the Upper Peninsula.

While in Escanaba the girls were taken on a short cruise on the Lee W. and were interviewed in a WDBC radio broadcast.

Miss West claims the title of outdoor girl, saying that one of her favorite sports is shooting rats in the city dumping ground with her own 22 automatic pistol. She attends high school in Marquette and is majoring in biology and math. On graduation from high school she plans to attend NMCE in Marquette, where her father, Dr. Luther S. West is a professor, for two years and then transfer to a larger school. Miss West is a member of the NMCE college orchestra, playing the cello.

From Sunday when Miss West and Miss Gallagher left St. Ignace by plane, until Wednesday when they returned, the girls were conducted on tours of Michigan State college campus, Detroit newspaper plants, Briggs stadium and other points of interest. They met Governor Sigler, Secretary of State Fred M. Alger, Jr., State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Zigler, Detroit and Lansing mayors and other officials of those cities.

They had their pictures taken with members of the Detroit Tigers and made a television broadcast over radio station WWJ, Detroit.

On their return trip to St. Ignace by plane, Miss West was in the pilot's seat part of the way. "Of course," she said, "the pilot sat at the dual controls, ready to take over if anything happened."

On their tour through the Upper Peninsula, the queen and her runner-up rode in a car donated by Douglas Surrel of Newberry, which had this inscription painted on each side: "Straits of Mackinac Official Queen's Car."

Rainfall Shortage Felt by Utilities

Houghton, Mich.—The Upper Peninsula Power company announced that only the return of normal rainfall can prevent a severe shortage of hydro-electric power at their Pickett and Victoria plants. The levels of rivers in this area are the lowest they have been for many years and power dam production is far below normal.

The subnormal amount of precipitation last fall and during the spring and summer months, following an unusually light recovery from the spring run-off, has resulted in a deficiency in reservoir storage at Bond Falls and Lake Gogebic. The Bond Falls reservoir is only 10 per cent full and Lake Gogebic is near minimum level. Present combined storage represents approximately one-half billion cubic feet, whereas, when full the reservoirs contain about three and one-half billion cubic feet.

From information issued by the U. S. Geological Survey, the stream flow of the Sturgeon river at Sidnaw was only 10.5 per cent of the average June flow for the past six years. Rainfall in the L'Anse area for May was listed at 0.10 inches, the driest spot in the state. Normal rainfall at L'Anse for June is 3.86 inches. The Pickett hydro plant has, therefore, been limited to generating approximately 30 per cent of its capacity which is 50 per cent less than it generated a year ago.

United States museums increased from 600 in 1910 to 2,500 in 1939.

The Santa Fe Trail was once known as "Mexican Trace."

Ah-Mie Wins Final Seagull Race And Gust Asp Trophy

The fourth and final Escanaba Yacht Club's seagull elimination race was sailed on Saturday afternoon in threatening weather that failed to develop, making it the slowest and most baffling racing of the series. Getting the finish gun in a flat calm and heavy rain was Lois Sawyer's Ah-Mie, sailed by Bill Nolden, with Jim Moran's Gahgoe and the Sura-Hollick Minx several minutes astern.

With this first place Ah-Mie won the Gust Asp trophy for the series as well as the privilege of representing the Escanaba Yacht Club in the Seagull Class championship races at Fish Creek, Wis., on August 14. Final results in points for the Series were: Ah-Mie, 7½ points; Gahgoe 5½ points; Minx 3½. In the series of four races Minx failed to sail the second race while Lazog missed two and withdrew from one race with broken gear.

Under the deed of gift of the Henes trophy, for which the yachts sail in the championship races, the series is sailed in boats owned at the port of the host club, with the number of races sailed during the day governed by the number of clubs participating. The boats are rotated by the crews after each race, so that the championship is decided by the skill and judgment of skipper and crew, rather than by the condition of any particular boat. Another condition is that each skipper sailing the finals must be at least a half owner of a Seagull Class boat. The race committee and judges are appointed from among the most experienced racing skippers on Green Bay by the Green Bay yacht racing committee.

During the eleven years of the Henes trophy competition, only once was the trophy lifted from the Door county resort towns of Ephraim and Fish Creek, when in 1945 John Jacobs and Charles Hoyer brought the trophy to Escanaba, to be lost again in 1946 to Fish Creek.

Plans are being made to take the Escanaba skipper and crew,

Mobile X-Ray Unit

ANOTHER OPPORTUNITY will be afforded Upper Peninsula residents to have a check-up for tuberculosis when the Michigan department of health sends its mobile X-ray unit to the State Fair in Escanaba Aug. 17 to 22.

Tuberculosis is curable and that is why it is so important that cases be detected in time for early treatment. This year it is planned to send the mobile units to 29 fairs and other special events. A year ago, the units took 43,691 X-ray pictures at fairs. Out of that number 418 persons were discovered to have active or healed tuberculosis.

By this method the department is able to examine thousands of persons who otherwise would never think of having such an examination. And the record reveals that almost one in every ten examined last year had an active or arrested case of tuberculosis.

Most of the sufferers probably will make a good recovery. Otherwise, this would have been impossible.

Sales Tax Fight Looms

ESCANABA and many other cities of the state associated with the Michigan Municipal League have designated the league to spearhead the fight against repeal of the sales tax diversion amendment in the November election.

Armed with this vote of support from its member cities, the league will join the school lobby in carrying on an intensive campaign to keep the sales tax amendment on the books.

This is not surprising, of course, in view of the heavy cut that the cities and the schools are getting from the sales tax at the expense of the state government which faces serious financial conditions.

The local units of government are well organized in their fight to preserve the sales tax diversion amendment, just as they were well organized in the original campaign to adopt it as a part of the state constitution. The fact that many glaring inequalities have developed from the adoption of the amendment is no concern at all to those governmental units which now profit handsomely from the division of the swag.

The amendment has resulted in gross waste in excess tax funds by hundreds of townships in Michigan as well as by many school districts that do not even have a local school tax.

That unfortunate part of the tax diversion amendment is that it does not divide the tax receipts upon a basis of actual need. If it did, none of the townships in Delta county would share in the distribution because none now assesses a local tax. Most of them, on the other hand, have bulging treasuries in their treasury for which they have no actual need.

No Wage, Price Controls

THE SPECIAL SESSION of Congress has approved a housing bill designed to encourage private building of homes in the lower cost group and also approved legislation which establishes controls on bank and consumer credit as an anti-inflationary weapon.

The measures approved at the special session are not anything like the type of legislation requested by the president. Mr. Truman urged a housing bill that included vast outlays of money for subsidized public construction and slum clearance. Further he sought legislation to establish wage and price controls.

When President Truman called the special session of Congress, he knew that he could not get the broad legislation that he sought. He called the session for political purposes only, seeking to get some ammunition for his reelection campaign.

The bill to establish credit controls merely reiterates authority that the president previously possessed but which he failed to use to halt the wave of installment buying that has contributed heavily to inflationary pressures.

It is ironical that Mr. Truman now seeks authority to control wages and prices although the president himself is responsible in no small degree for the development of the first round of general wage increases that set off the inflationary spiral. Those wage boosts were subsequently followed by inevitable higher prices, which in turn caused the second and finally the third round of wage boosts.

Economists are in almost total agreement that federal wage and price controls at this stage of the game would be unworkable, that they would lead only to even greater scarcities and to extensive black marketing.

As for subsidizing the so-called low cost public housing program outlined by the president, the experiences of the nation with these programs already in operation show that the tenants rarely are low-income families. These housing projects now are filled with families whose earnings are far above the national average, a part of whose housing costs are being borne by the taxpayers at large.

Damper On Smoke

THE FIGHT against the smoke nuisance in American cities continues unabated. The American Municipal Association reports that Philadelphia is the most recent addition to the growing list of cities setting up special agencies to cope with smoke, fly ash and fumes.

Denver has passed a smoke control ordinance to regulate discharge of smoke and harmful or offensive gases. Highland Park, Mich., St. Louis and Erie, Pa., are tightening smoke regulation. In St. Louis, the council decreed that industries, businesses and railroads must comply with new clean-air regulations within two years. This means they must install smoke-arresting equipment and make other provisions to curb the smog nuisance within that period.

Reports from Pittsburgh, St. Louis and other cities are to the effect that headway is definitely being made in the fight against smoke, fly ash and fumes. If the nuisance can be licked there, it can be done in every other community.

BETRAYAL ON THE POTOMAC

(Milwaukee Journal)
The testimony of Elizabeth Bentley reads like the truth. By this, we mean that it has the indefinable qualities of sincerity. There may be errors in it—we do not know. But it doesn't sound like falsehood.

Whittaker Chambers, second important witness in this spy ring investigation, gives names and incidents that fit together with Elizabeth Bentley's statements. We can see no reason in the world why Mr. Chambers, who has reformed his life and is now in a responsible position with Time magazine, should want to falsify. He has come forward as a real American, willing to tell his story even though it darkens his past.

Finally, all these disclosures fit around men whose actions have been peculiar. They were the extreme leftists under Roosevelt, the extreme leftists in government agencies, the extreme leftists in the labor unions—the men most unfriendly to the accepted American way of life.

Part of the testimony concerns a former attorney for the national labor relations board in the days when the NLRB was used, not to promote justice for either the worker or the employer but to stir up the class struggle. If this government attorney ever gave an employer a fair deal in those days, it was unusual.

More testimony concerns a former CIO lawyer. His attitude has often been unfriendly to anything that did not smack of class struggle.

And so it goes, down the line.

Where are most of these men now? Under the banner of Henry Wallace, in one of the biggest political conspiracies ever hatched in this country.

RUSSIA AND RUSSIA ALONE

(Milwaukee Journal)
The success of the United Nations in halting the war in Palestine now for the second time shows what might have been accomplished to bring peace to the world of Russia had co-operated.

Russia has not been helpful in the Palestine matter but she has chosen not to obstruct the other nations which were working on it. They have gone ahead and have met with considerable success.

Much of the same thing was true in the case of Indonesia. But everywhere else Russia has obstructed and obstructed. As a result, nothing constructive has been accomplished in dealing with the problems of eastern Europe and the Balkans. In Berlin the situation is grave.

The dream of the nations at San Francisco could have come true. It could have been fulfilled if Russia had not chosen otherwise.

HE DESERVES A HOME

(Detroit News)
If the office of vice president is to be built up in importance, as Gov. Dewey and Gov. Warren have agreed it will be if the Republican ticket wins, it is in order that it be given some of the outward marks of its new estate.

Most obvious of the possibilities is a mansion for the vice president, corresponding to the executive's White House.

A proposal to build such a structure has been introduced in Congress, and deserves prompt action. So prone are we all to judge by appearances, nothing could be better calculated than such a dwelling to impress on the popular mind in a graphic way the vice president's new status.

Take My Word For It

Frank Colby

WORDS TO WATCH

Overheard on the Town Meeting program (Sen. Joseph Ball): "dem-yoo-NISH-un" for the word diminution, "act of diminishing." For years I have noted this curious transposition in the speech of many capable speakers of good education. I am not sure why the word dim-i-nution should be "seen" and pronounced as if it were spelled "dem-u-ni-tion." At any rate, speakers should watch the word and be sure to pronounce it: dim-i-NYOO-shun; or: dim-i-NOO-shun.

The noted and scholarly British actor, C. Aubrey Smith, writes to me from his Beverly Hills home about the British pronunciation of "SHED-yool" for the word schedule. "As we were taught that in Latin sch- is pronounced 'sk' (as in scheme, school, etc.), I've often thought that we may be wrong in England in softening the sch- to 'sh.' Which pronunciation do you consider right?"

The British "SHED-yool" is a relatively new pronunciation. Prior to the 1800's the British pronunciation was either "SED-

World Events Analyzed

BY THOMAS L. STOKES

Washington.—There is no better illustration of the quandary of the Republican party in the special session of Congress and the quandary it seems bound to face in the future if it wins the election than the division within its ranks over housing legislation.

For this is an index of basic differences in the party in its approach to social legislation of all sorts.

While this division is generally known by close observers it had been hoped to keep it out of sight of the public in this special session in a campaign year. Consequently, the Republican party leadership in Congress had agreed, for the sake of appearances, to patch up a measure that could be pointed to in the campaign as "a housing bill" but which would not include the public housing provisions of the Taft-Elliender-Wagner measure that are such a matter of controversy within the party. They wanted to keep this ghost locked up securely in the closet and, in order to prevent as little mention and notice as possible, the plan called for swift passage to make a record for campaign purposes.

NEW ENGLANDERS REVOLT

Everything seemed fixed. Then, all of a sudden, two senators from the New England wing of the party, which looks at some of today's pressing problems a bit differently on occasion than the regular GOP stalwarts, kicked over the traces. In a heated session of the Senate banking committee, Senators Flanders (Vt.), a businessman with more modern ideas than some of his colleagues, and Tobey (N.H.), who is constantly a thorn in the flesh of the GOP regulars, joined with Democrats to substitute most of the T-E-W bill, including its slum clearance and public housing provisions, for the watered-down, campaign model version which already had passed the House. This House bill was chosen by party leaders as a vehicle because that would avoid a conflict with the House. Senate approval was all that would be necessary to get the business done and get this vexatious problem out of the way quickly.

The two New Englanders embarrassed Senator Taft of Ohio very much. The senator, as it well known, is sponsor of the T-E-W bill which twice has passed the Senate. But he had dropped his own pet project for the special session because House leaders had made it very clear they would prevent action just as they did in the regular session when they buried the T-E-W bill in the House rules committee where it still reposes. A public brawl just now between the two branches, both controlled by Republicans, would not look too nice.

PARTY LEADERSHIP CHAGRINED
The watered-down version which the Republican leadership had agreed upon for its campaign purposes was sponsored by Rep. Wolcott (R., Mich.), chairman of the House banking committee and was rushed through the House at the tail-end of the regular session. Mr. Wolcott has been an adamant foe of public housing and has fought it vigorously with the backing of the like-minded House leadership and the powerful real estate lobby, though he voted for the housing bill in 1937 that established the principle of federal aid for housing.

There you have the Republican party quandary exposed by the two New England senators to the chagrin of the party leadership. On the one hand there is the Senate wing of the party in which there is sufficient influence to put through such social measures as limited public housing, aid to education and health, and the very conservative House leadership which resists them bitterly and stopped all such measures of that sort in this 80th Republican Congress despite platform commitments both in 1944 and this year.

Governor Dewey, the presidential candidate and party leader, has kept out of this family feud publicly. That is undoubtedly the smartest course politically, even if it is not the bold sort of leadership that might be helpful at this time. But, if elected president, he must face this quandary if he intends to carry out the party's platform and what appear to be his own views on social legislation.

While the governor is not on record specifically on the Taft-Elliender-Wagner bill, he nevertheless has carried forward a housing program in his own state which has won him acclaim and which indicates his views. His running-mate, Governor Warren of California, is regarded as having similar views on this and other social welfare measures. The statement of their positions will be watched with interest in the campaign, as will the methods they adopt in handling the recalcitrant House leadership if they are elected.

NOTABLES—In keeping with the spirit of the fair there will be the usual number of notables in attendance. Among these will be Gov. Sigler and Charles Fleg, Michigan commissioner of agriculture.

The second day of the fair, Aug. 18, is designated "Governor's Day" and the fair board has Gov. Sigler's assurance that he will be present. The governor, aviation enthusiast, pilots his own plane and is Michigan's first chief executive to fully utilize the advantages of air travel. He is scheduled to be at Camp Grayling on Saturday, Aug. 14, to review the Michigan National Guard, and on the following day (Sunday) will deliver an address at a memorial service.

We surmise he will return to Lansing for Monday's desk work at the capital and then leave to attend the fair at Escanaba. Last year "Governor's Day" at the U. P. State Fair was without significance since the governor could not be here.

VARIETY—Fairs are wonderful. They are such delightful mixtures of important things like

By Clint Dunathan

STATE FAIR—The Upper Peninsula State Fair will open in Escanaba August 17, which is only eight days away. In preparation for the opening the fair grounds is now a scene of great activity, with Jack Sheahan, grounds superintendent, one of the busiest men in the Upper Peninsula.

Dunathan

For the fair this year will be bigger than ever, which means additional work in its preparation. "The fair is growing," says Harold Lindsay, fair secretary.

"Last year saw all previous attendance records broken. The board of managers has, therefore, spared neither time, money nor effort to improve the 1949 fair wherever possible."

The agricultural and industrial exhibits, the entertainment features, and the general program of the fair that Upper Peninsula people will see has taken months of effort to assemble.

It is a continuous year around effort on the part of the fair board of managers, who are Harry Brackett of Escanaba, chairman, Walter Corey of Munising, William Kell of Wilson, John MacInnis of Sault Ste. Marie and Victor F. Lemmer of Ironwood.

CONTRASTS—The fair this year, as every year, offers many contrasts in its composition. There is the glitter of the carnivals and concessions, the blare of bands and the calls of the hawkers. That is the frosting on the cake, for the body of the fair is the agricultural and industrial exhibits.

Perhaps a better simile would be to call the agricultural and industrial part of the fair its bread and butter, for without them the fair would have little wholesome value. And in reality these agricultural and industrial exhibits do represent the bread and butter for hundreds of thousands of our Upper Peninsula people. Just as too much sweet can be cloying, so bread and butter becomes monotonous. The fair program, therefore, attempts to offer a well-balanced "menu" that will prove both nourishing and palatable.

AMERICAN PLAN—The fair program is like the good old American plan boarding house menu. The fair opens with "Queen's Day" in which personable young women will compete for the title of U. P. State Fair queen; and on that same day farmers will be grooming their livestock for judging. The queen will be crowned with suitable ceremony that evening.

Second day of the fair (Wednesday) is "Governor's Day," which we have mentioned before. In addition to a speech by the governor at 3 p. m., there will be an amateur stage contest in the afternoon and in the evening Avery's Revue will be presented. The third day features (and honors) the 4-H boys and girls of the Upper Peninsula, with the added attraction of auto races in the afternoon.

AGRICULTURE—Friday and Saturday the program swings to the agricultural side (with variations, of course) and the features will be the light and heavyweight horse-pulling contests.

Saturday night will be the perennially popular WLS show. As usual the grandstand will be crowded with folks who like corn so much they eat it down to the cob and drool over the last little kernel.

Sunday's show is outright spectator stuff—the "Thrill Day" in which Jimmy Lynch defies death while the vegetables wilt in the exhibition building and farmers prepare to take Bossy home again for another year of buccolic production. And the day after that? Call it "Clean-Up Day."

10 Years Ago

Escanaba—Miss Lura Brown has returned from a visit with relatives and friends in Marquette. She was accompanied on her return by Miss Phyllis Sharp who is a guest at the Brown home, 903 South 15th street.

Escanaba—Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Tonkin and son, James, have returned from a vacation visit in Montreal and Quebec, Canada.

Escanaba—Mr. and Mrs. Ken Gunderman and children of Manistique attended the annual Daily Press picnic held Sunday at Pioneer Trail park.

Escanaba—Mr. and Mrs. James P. Courneine and children, Jacqueline, Teresa, William and John have returned from a two weeks vacation in Sault Ste. Marie.

20 Years Ago
Escanaba—Ralph Olson, who is employed at the Delta Motor company, made his first solo flight on Monday from the airfield of the U. P. Airways Inc.

Escanaba—Mrs. A. O. Prange and family left yesterday for her home in Orlando after visiting with Mrs. C. W. Bissell.

Escanaba—Al Christianson of Escanaba piloting Ted Baldwin's Fiji, won the class B speedboat race at Indian lake.

Orly, France—Another attempt to fly from Paris to New York ended in disaster today before it had even begun. The plane crashed on the landing field at Orly airdrome late this afternoon, killing the mechanic.

governors, pink cotton candy, purebred bulls, and prize turkeys. You can find just about anything you seek at a fair. There will be exhibits of oil paintings on the second floor and on the first floor washing machines busily tumbling laundry around behind a glass door. You can stay up until midnight waiting for Zachini to be shot from a cannon and then have your chest x-rayed the next day at the health department's mobile unit.

AMERICAN PLAN—The fair program is like the good old American plan boarding house menu. The fair opens with "Queen's Day" in which personable young women will compete for the title of U. P. State Fair queen; and on that same day farmers will be grooming their livestock for judging. The queen will be crowned with suitable ceremony that evening.

By Hal Boyle

New York, (AP)—Happy birthday to the atom age!

It's three years old today, but nobody's baking a cake for it. Never did a new era in the story of man open more dramatically. It was like something out of the Old Testament or Greek Mythology.

A big American firebird flew over Hiroshima and dropped a strange metal package. The package opened, and it proved to be a deadly new Pandora's box for the Japanese.

Up bloomed a towering destructive mushroom of death, flame and smoke. And beneath it a city had disappeared.

Three days later American airpower confirmed the arrival of the atom age by dropping a second bomb over Nagasaki. Another mighty mushroom blossomed. Another city, except the area protected by hills, lay stricken.

Killed 120,000 People
The two bombs killed 120,000 people—80,000 at Hiroshima, 40,000 at Nagasaki—and injured 320,000 more.

President Truman justified the dropping of the atomic bombs by saying they had saved 250,000 American lives by avoiding the need of a full-scale land invasion. But he said another global war would mean the end of civilization.

"We are not going to do that," he promised. "We are going to accept the golden rule and we are going forward to meet our destiny, which I think almighty God intended us to have—and we are going to be the leaders."

The powerful baby, the most destructive prodigy yet conceived by man's inventive mind and the forces of nature, was put into harness and dedicated to the paths of peace.

But the terrible infant also was given secret training to develop his muscles like a fighter working out for his next battle. And he has grown stronger. Just how strong perhaps no one truly knows because—like any baby—he is still growing.

Has Power For Good

His power for peacetime good, however, is growing more apparent. His radiant energy is helping medical men on a hundred fronts in their age-old quest for new methods of fighting disease. He has been put to work on the farm, helping to grow better food products.

And in a laboratory on Long Island by the end of this year, the atomic child will be producing enough electricity to serve the needs of a village of 3,000 people. In time he will supply power for people far removed from cheap sources of coal and oil.

Fear of him has dulled somewhat in three years. People who live under the threat of constant danger have to reconcile themselves to it—or go mad.

In every land the population now worries more over man's eternal problems of food, clothing and housing than over the potential disaster locked within the atom. But the shadow of another global war still lifts and settles like a vagrant cloud.

History's biggest juvenile delinquent—the atom—has done pretty well since he went to reform school. Yet on his third birthday the question of his permanent guardianship is still unsettled.

Let's hope he never plays hooky and goes on a rampage while the world argues over what to do with him. A growing boy can cause much more harm than a baby—and what a baby he was!

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—GOP senators locked themselves inside the Senate caucus room for three hours the other day to work out a legislative formula that would pacify the voters and still let Congress go home early. Here is an inside account of what happened at the meeting:

Sharpest clash was over the displaced persons act which President Truman has called anti-Semitic and anti-Catholic. West Virginia's Chapman Revercomb, author of the act, defended it vigorously. He quoted some Catholic bishops as saying it wasn't anti-Catholic, and excused the anti-Jewish features by claiming 65 per cent of the post-war immigrants have been Jews. They have been admitted to this country under the regular immigration quotas, he explained.

Revercomb's act will admit 200,000 non-quota refugees, but only those who fled into Germany before Dec. 22, 1945, will be eligible. This restriction automatically disqualifies 90 per cent of the Jews, most of whom fled into Germany to escape the Polish pogroms after December, 1945.

However, New Jersey's Alex Smith, scowling darkly, called upon the Republicans to clean up the act, and give no more comfort to Hitler's ghost. Senators John Cooper of Kentucky, Homer Ferguson of Michigan, and Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts joined him.

Smith added that the "governor"—referring to presidential candidate Tom Dewey—wanted the act amended, and he quoted New York's Irving Ives as the source.

"I know I am suspected of speaking for Governor Dewey in everything I do and say," replied Ives. "That is the reason you are not seeing me make any statements on the floor. I have not talked to Governor Dewey about amending the displaced persons act, but I have talked to Herb Brownell (Dewey's campaign manager). He is very strictly in favor of it."

Ives also added his own hearty endorsement.

However, Missouri's Forrest Donnell backed up Revercomb and insisted that the subcommittee had been "open-minded" in writing the act.

"CAKE" STEVENSON OF TEXAS

Ex-Governor Coke Stevenson of Texas, who now aspires to be a senator, won a new name for himself. Around Capitol Hill cloakrooms he is now called "Cake" Stevenson, because, when it comes to the Taft-Hartley act and other controversial issues, Coke wants to have his cake and eat it too.

At two press conferences which the Texas solon himself initiated on a recent trip to Washington, he evaded more issues and dodged more questions than any recent performer in a city noted for question-dodging.

Here is a stenographic report of part of "Cake" Stevenson's issue-evading press conference:

"You said this morning, governor, that it we wanted to know your ideas on the Taft-Hartley act we should read the newspapers," queried one newsman. "I have searched the Texas files for every remark you made and I find no place where you committed yourself either for or against the Taft-Hartley act."

"I have already made a statement carried by the United Press," replied Mr. Stevenson.

"But why do you object to repeating your stand? Has it changed?" Stevenson's assistant came to his rescue with a remark that Coke wasn't going to let the newspapers shape his campaign for him, that he was going to answer questions he wanted to answer.

JUGGLING CAPITAL AND LABOR

"But a lot of Texans still say they don't know what your stand is on the Taft-Hartley act, Governor."

"Well, all my notes and papers are back in Texas," explained "Cake." "I am facing these questions without any material."

"But all we ask is what your position is. It should be fairly simple to say that you are either for or against the Taft-Hartley act."

"No," replied the ex-governor. "I want to repeat my statement word-for-word, and I might leave out some words."

"All you have to say is 'Yes, I am for the Taft-Hartley act,'" suggested the newsman. "Or 'No, I am against the Taft-Hartley act.' I guarantee to quote you verbatim."

"That reminds me," parried the man who wants to be senator. "Of the lawyer who wanted a yes-or-no answer to the question 'Have you stopped beating your wife?'"

"I'll be happy to have you use as many words in making your statement as you wish."

"No, gentlemen, I can't say anything more," replied Mr. Stevenson.

"Could it be," asked another newsman, "that you want to have your Taft-Hartley cake and eat it too?"

What the newsman referred to is that "Cake" Stevenson has managed to make the American Federation of Labor think he is opposed to the Taft-Hartley act, while making Texas businessmen think he is for it.

TAFT'S FILIBUSTER

Senate boss Bob Taft was more concerned about breaking the southern filibuster which he, himself, had brought on. It was Taft's idea to throw the Senate into a snarl over anti-poll tax legislation to demonstrate the disunity in the Democratic party. But at the caucus he wanted to clear the decks for the Senate wind-up government's announcement that living costs have now reached an all-time high.

The Bureau of Labor statistics said the cost of living is now 74 per cent above what it was in August, 1939.

(The bureau gave that figure for June 15. Its figures are always about six weeks behind time.)

But how does the government know how high living costs are?

The bureau has about 125 people working for it around the country. In at least 56 cities every month they check on the price of things that middle-class families buy or pay for.

What kind of things? Food, clothing, fuel—that means electricity, gas, ice, coal, oil—house furnishings, street car fares, and so on. All these things are figured in groups. For example, food is in one group, clothing another, house furnishings another.

The prices of the different items in the different groups are averaged out to arrive at the cost of living.

The biggest rise in the cost of any group since August, 1939, has been food. It has gone up 129 per cent.

In the food group, the biggest rise was in meat. It's gone up 167 1/2 per cent since August, 1939.

(Present prices are compared with August, 1939, because that was the last month of peace before World War II. After that prices started going up and have been rising ever since.)

This will show what the rise in other groups has been since August 1939:

Clothing ..... 97 percent

Rent ..... 12 percent

Fuels ..... 36 percent

House furnishings ..... 84 percent

Miscellaneous ..... 47 percent

(Miscellaneous includes street car, bus and train fares, automobiles, gasoline, tires, taxes, medical care, motion pictures, haircuts, laundry, soap and so on.)

Note that the increase in rents has been the smallest of all the groups. That's because rents still are under government control.

President Truman is pretty sure to ask the special session of Congress for power to control prices. He asked for it last November but didn't get it. Meanwhile prices have gone up.

While this country still had an OPA after the war, businessmen argued this way: "Get rid of OPA and prices will go up a bit at first but then they'll come down as businessmen compete with one another."

The only thing wrong with that argument is this: It didn't work. OPA was wiped out a couple of years ago but prices have gone up steadily till now they're at a peak. This will tell the story of prices:

As explained above, prices in this country started climbing after World War II started in September, 1939.

In the two years between August of that year and May, 1942, prices rose 17.6 per cent.

Then in May, 1942, OPA came along and slapped price controls on the things you buy in stores.

Within the four years of OPA control—or by June, 1946—living costs had reached a total 35.2 per cent over August, 1939.

In June 1946 OPA began to fail apart. And by the fall of 1946 it was all washed up. Between the start of OPA's collapse in June, 1946, and June, 1948, living costs continued upward until now they are 74.1 over August, 1939.

Rotary President Outlines Program For Coming Year

O. V. Thatcher, president of the Escanaba Rotary club for 1948-49, today at the club's noon luncheon in the Delta hotel outlined a plan of action for the organization which has been developed at recent club assembly and aims and objects committee meetings.

Programs for the coming year will be integrated with the four aims of Rotary—club, community, vocational and international service. Meetings with clubs in the Escanaba area will be encouraged and efforts will be made to increase the understanding and fellowship among Rotarians.

O. B. Mason, vice president of the club and general chairman of the program committee, will direct the integration of the program with the objectives of Rotary; and E. H. Niederbauer, chairman of the fellowship committee, will supervise the emphasized plan for broader Rotary understanding.

The club was entertained at today's meeting with flute solos played by Wayne Crebo of Escanaba, accompanied by Miss Irene Steen. Selections included "To A Wild Rose", Mozart's "Andante" and others.

Gun Scuffle In Car Fatal to Wife, 44

Fort Worth, Tex., Aug. 9 (AP)—An inquest verdict was awaited today in the death of Mrs. Wyema Morrow, 44, who was shot to death while scuffling over a gun in her husband's car.

J. Bennett Morrow, 46, a choir leader, surrendered to the sheriff's office here following the shooting yesterday.

The Morrows were married last November, he said. Several months ago, he said in a statement, she began to have "nervous spells" and yesterday she "flew into a rage."

Morrow, choir leader at Rosen Heights Church of Christ, said his wife ran to the car, where there was a pistol, and he followed her.

He said the gun went off while they were scuffling for it. The incident occurred in front of the home near Fort Worth. Morrow brought his wife to a hospital, but she was pronounced dead on arrival.

Rail Wreck Spreads Out Candy and Oil

Latrobe, Pa., Aug. 9 (AP)—Two streets paralleling the Pennsylvania railroad tracks were splattered with oil, candy and other cargo last night as thirty cars of a 101-car freight train were derailed. Police said no one was injured as the cars left the tracks in the Latrobe business district. Immediate cause of the derailment was not determined.

The train was an extra bound for Cincinnati. One of the derailed cars was a tank car that spilled oil into the streets and down sewers. A broken boxcar scattered candy along the right of way and children gathered up the confection until police stepped in.

Showers Scattered Over Weather Map

Chicago, Aug. 9 (AP)—Several widely scattered shower areas dotted the nation's weather map today.

Scattered rains were reported in the lower Great Lakes region, the Middle Atlantic states, Florida and the Central Great Plains. Temperatures in the Great Lakes and northeastern areas continued cool. The lowest reading reported was 58 at Detroit.

City crews last week spread gravel on the surface of the road, and today work on the blacktop was begun.

Gramlich Speaks At Kiwanis Meet

New wealth can be created from the soil through agriculture in a few months, while iron ore and other minerals which have been in the ground millions of years, cannot be reproduced. H. J. Gramlich, general agricultural agent of the C. & N. W. railway, said in an interesting talk at today's meeting of the Kiwanis club.

Machines and other scientific agricultural methods have made the soil produce much larger amounts of foodstuffs, said Gramlich, who predicted that more changes are coming "in this wonderful world of ours."

At the same time, machinery and labor legislation are robbing our youth of a chance to work, all of which is creating a juvenile problem, particularly in the cities, Gramlich added.

Citing the high prices being paid for livestock nowadays, Gramlich said "inflation is here" and it presents problems that need careful watching by all thinking Americans. Just where inflation will take the country, the speaker would not venture a guess.

The importance of water to agriculture was explained by Gramlich. He said that light aluminum pipe is being used for irrigating farm crops during periods when rainfall is light. Great increases in productivity have been achieved through irrigation, and he predicted the more extensive use of sprinkling systems in the future. "Water is the lifeblood of agriculture," Gramlich said.

Swim-Picnic Friday In Ludington Park

A swim-picnic as a final event in the city recreation programs at Ludington Park will be held at 2 p. m. Friday. Stephen Baltic and Jeannette LeCaptain, who are in charge of the programs, will supervise the activities and the lunch.

Ludington Park will close Aug. 15 and reopen Aug. 23, to make free time during the State Fair to be held here Aug. 17-22. After re-opening on the 23rd, the park will be open until Sept. 4.

Chicago Fire Victim Hurt In High Jump

Chicago, Aug. 9 (AP)—Frantic woman, scorched by flames which consumed her third floor apartment, leaped to the sidewalk early today. She was critically injured. She is Mrs. Pauline Jarzembowski, 41, one of a dozen persons made homeless when the three story frame building was destroyed.

VEGETABLES LOSE GROUND

Honolulu—The market for such Oriental vegetables as daikon, burdock, dasheens, and lotus root is disappearing. "Apparently this is partly the result of a natural growing-up process of the Oriental population," says Shiro Takei, of the economics division of the University of Hawaii Agricultural Extension Service.

Takei says the cooking and eating habits of the average Oriental family have made an about-face since the days when Mama-san held the reins in the kitchen. Now that second and third generation housewives have the say-so as to what goes onto their tables, cooking has gone Caucasian style. "Many of the younger group don't know how to cook the traditional Japanese dishes," he says.

POWER CUT OFF

Colon (AP)—Electricity for this community was cut off for five hours when a power line was struck by an unidentified plane and torn down. The plane did not crash.

"HEY, MA, WHERE ARE YOU?" — Lonesome, frightened and bawling for his mother, this Brahma calf was marooned on the loading dock of the Missouri Pacific Railroad at Frankfort, Kan., when the rain-swollen Vermillion river flooded the town. The train behind the calf was also marooned.

Closing Party Picnic For Youngsters Will Be Held Thursday

A closing party picnic for youngsters is being held at 2 p. m. Thursday, in Ludington park, under the auspices of the recreation department.

A program of stunts and other entertainment is planned, and prizes will be awarded. Ice cream, pop, candy, cake and sandwiches will be served the children.

There will be a slight charge to help cover the cost of the lunch. Arrangements to attend the picnic should be made at the Recreation Center before Wednesday night.

Negroes Get Vote In South Carolina, First Since 1876

Columbia, S. C., Aug. 9 (AP)—Selection of a U. S. Senate nominee will feature balloting by South Carolina Democrats, an estimated 30,000 of them Negroes in a party primary tomorrow.

Among the estimated 480,000 persons enrolled on party membership books for the primary are 35,000 Negroes from whom a heavy vote is expected.

It will be the first general voting by Negroes in the state since 1876 when native white persons wrested political control from carpetbaggers. Their vote could materially affect the Senatorial and other contests.

The Negroes won their primary voting rights, then their party membership, in decisions by Federal District Judge J. Waties Waring of Charleston.

Sleeping Sickness Kills 52 in Tokyo

Hokyo, Aug. 9 (AP)—Deaths in the encephalitis epidemic reached 52 today as the number of cases in Tokyo neared the 400 mark.

Doctors said every ward and county in Tokyo had reported cases and expressed fears the number of cases may mount 200 a day from now until the middle of the month, when the anticipated peak is reached.

In 1935 there were 1,540 cases of the sleeping sickness here.

In 1940 there were 11 million adults in the United States who had gone no further than the fourth grade in school.

in impeachment proceedings." The speaker went on in that vein for quite a while. Then, before Mr. Truman's Democratic supporters could get the floor for a rebuttal, the special session was gavelled into adjournment.

The Democrats stuck together better in the closing hours of the session than they have for a long time.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the party's vice presidential nominee, offered Mr. Truman's price control proposals as an amendment to the GOP credit-control bill.

He carried along with him in this move 32 of the 38 Democrats who voted. The six who wouldn't join in this gesture of unity were all southerners—Byrd of Virginia, Eastland of Mississippi, McClellan of Arkansas, Robertson of Virginia, Stennis of Mississippi and Stewart of Tennessee, a lame duck.

The Republicans had only one deserter from their ranks—Senator Langer of North Dakota, who often goes off the reservation. Forty-seven other Republicans voted against the price control proposal.

Airman Unlocked By Bride, Wedded At Grand Rapids

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 9 (AP)—Freed of his ball and chain, Larry Flaughner was wed-locked today the way he planned it in the beginning.

The 23-year-old engineering college graduate and his bride, Lucille, 19, were on their honeymoon.

And the 24-pound ball and chain which student pranksters at Tulsa, Okla., had fastened to Larry's ankle was stowed away "for a souvenir."

Larry and Lucille spoke their vows at the Methodist church in nearby Edmore Sunday after some earlier concern over his getting rid of the ball and chain.

As the prank-players had said, the key got to Lucille in the mails, late Saturday, and she unlocked the chain. Larry had been forced to wear it since Friday when he left Tulsa.

Olympics Acclaimed Success; Forgotten Sports Come Next

By BILL MACKLIN
London, Aug. 9 (AP)—Already acclaimed a rousing success, the Olympic games entered the home stretch today with nine "forgotten" sports taking the spotlight from the glamour boys of track and field.

The athletes ran their last race Saturday in the Olympic Stadium. Now the chief interest centers on the 1,900 meter river highway at Henley-on-Thames, 40 miles west of London.

Twenty-one crews from nine nations are in the rowing finals of the Olympic regatta on the stretch made famous by the annual Henley Royal regatta.

With four shells "sunk" in preliminaries, the United States still had three chances for triumph. The University of California eight, speediest in eliminating rounds, looked a cinch to extend the Yanks' 20-year monopoly on that title against Britain and Norway.

Likewise a favorite with veteran British rivermen was the University of Washington four with coxswain The Hughes have bettered the times of their foes in the finals—Switzerland and Denmark—but will have no run-away race.

It looked like a close battle for Yale's four with coxswain against Denmark and Italy. The Danes and Italians had for faster runs in the semi-finals Saturday.

The U. S. team needs all three crowns to equal its best previous Olympic records in 1920 and 1932.

Half of southeast England supplied stadiums for the eight other sports in windup competitions which will reach a climax in a gala closing ceremony in the Olympic Stadium Saturday afternoon.

The skyscraping U. S. basketball team meets Uruguay tonight in one of four quarter-finals at Harringay Arena, London.

The boxers will scrap through preliminary rounds on a pair of bridges thrown across the Olympic pool at Wembley. There will be cycling at Herne Hill, Equestrian events at Aldershot, fencing and gymnastics at Wembley, field hockey on miscellaneous fields and weightlifting at Wembley.

Spectators for track and swimming at Wembley since the games opened a week ago Friday numbered 870,000.

Said Sir Arthur Elvin, boss of the big Wembley sports palace: "The games have been an undoubted financial success. Crowds have exceeded even my most optimistic expectations."

Newspapers that had given only a skimpy buildup to the Olympics even got enthusiastic and found seeds of space to chronicle the thrills in their rationed four pages.

Half of the United States' 2,500 museums are history museums and one third are science museums.

Bullet-Proof Car Groomed For Rail Jaunt Of Truman

Washington, Aug. 9 (AP)—President Truman's bullet-proof railroad car is being groomed for a campaign swing around the country.

The car is in the Naval Gun factory here for what Dewey Long, White House transportation chief, described as a "routine check-up."

Charles G. Ross, presidential press secretary, told reporters today the only changes being made involve improvement of the air conditioning system and the installation of an oil burner to replace the coal stove in the galley.

The car, originally owned by the American Association of Railroads, was sold to the government some months ago for a nominal token sum.

Ross said no definite plans have been made yet for Mr. Truman's campaign speaking tour. He has been invited to tee off with a Labor Day address at Detroit. But the president told a news conference last Thursday that the Detroit invitation is only one he has under consideration.

Beautiful Daughter Slain: Mother Held At Benton Harbor

Benton Harbor, Mich., Aug. 9 (AP)—Sheriff's officers early today arrested and are holding Mrs. Wayne Williams, 276 Elvern Drive, in suburban Fair Plain, following the fatal shooting of her beautiful, 18-year-old daughter, Sarah Jean, in the Williams home.

Berrien county officers said they believed the mother had suddenly become mentally deranged. They said there was apparently no other explanation for the tragedy.

The victim was shot through the head with a shotgun. Mrs. Williams was standing in the yard of the suburban home when officers arrived after being summoned by neighbors.

Sarah Jean graduated from the Benton Harbor high school last Spring.

Golf Money Hounds Play For $10,000

Chicago, Aug. 9 (AP)—Lloyd Mangrum, golf's wary "Thin Man," has a chance today to boost his earnings for a week to an unprecedented $22,500.

He and two other pro money hounds, Sam Snead and Dutch Harrison, entered an 18 hole play-off at Tam O'Shanter for a winner-take-all purse of $10,000.

Mangrum shot a spectacular nine-under-par 63 yesterday to make the playoff round. Billed by promoter George S. May as the world championship, the 36-hole tournament for 12 selected pros broke open at the seams when Mangrum, representing the host club, made up a six stroke deficit in the final round to bolt into the anticlimax.

On Saturday Mangrum shot a standard 72 while Snead captured the first round lead with a 66. Harrison trailed with a 71. Snead fashioned a respectable 35-34-69 for his 135 tally yesterday, missing a 15-foot birdie putt on the 18th hole which would have given him the $10,000 jackpot. Harrison, 38-year-old veteran from Little Rock, Ark., whose last victory was the Richmond, Calif., open in January posted 33-31-64 after putting for birdies and eagles on all but one green.

Five Birdies Uncorked
With a gallery of 12,000 swirling around him, Mangrum was last to come in. The crowd began shadowing him when he caddied a four-under 32 on the first nine. On the back side he uncorked five birdies for a 31, including three successive ones.

His amazing 63 round over the 6,825-yard championship layout knocked one stroke from the course record set by Ralph Guldahl in the tourney last week. The record was worth $2,500 from promoter May.

Mangrum also picked up the $5,000 first prize in the 72 hole all-American pro tourney which ended Friday after authoring 277. May gave him a bonus of $5,000 for winning. In all, then, the 1946 National Open champion has pocketed $12,500.

Three other "world championship" divisions were settled yesterday.

Bill Campbell, ex-Princeton varsity captain from Huntington W. Va., carved a 66, two under the meet's amateur record, for a 134 total and first place in the Simor Pure division. Frank Stranahan of Toledo was second with a 70 for 141.

Babe Zaharias, who set a women's record of five-under-par 71 Friday to win the Women's Open crown, slammed a 72 for the special $1,000. She collected $1,200 Friday plus $500 more for the record-total jackpot of $2,700. Patty Berg was yesterday's runner-up with 77 for 162.

Carol Diringer of Effin, O., took the Women's Amateur "world championship" with a closing 77 for 152. She was followed by Peggy Kirk of Findlay, O., with 78 for 153 and Catherine Fox Park of Glen Ridge, N. J., with 76 for 157.

GO SAFER - GO FARTHER on B.F. Goodrich Silvertowns

Extra safety of the B.F. Goodrich Silvertown comes from a tire body that is made tougher, longer lasting with more—and stronger—cords. This stronger tire body also has a special double breaker strip for protection against road shocks.

B.F. Goodrich Silvertowns go farther because tread wear is more uniform. The tread is wider and more level. This means more tread-to-road contact, better weight distribution, more even wear, thousands of extra miles.

FORD LOGGING RAILWAY QUILTS

Motor Trucks Will Be Used To Haul Logs

L'Anse—The last train of logs over the Ford logging railroad was hauled last week. Hereafter logs will be brought into the mill by truck from the various cuttings in Baraga and Marquette counties, which is expected to effect a material saving to the Ford Motor company. It is estimated there will be as many as 60 log trucks daily over the Skanee road most of which will go to the Ford company, with a large group of pulp trucks also hauling over this road.

The railroad will remain as it is for the present. There are about 23 miles of main line and about eight to 10 miles of side track and side roads. The road runs from L'Anse into the Huron Mountain area in Marquette county, ending at the Oscar Elmblad camp.

The railroad was built in 1912 by the Marshall Butters Lumber company shortly after the company was organized and located in L'Anse. The first road was the narrow gauge type and used a two wheel driver engine with the 1860 model stack. A Lima engine also was used. The road originally was built through Fourth street and ran up between the grade and high school buildings. Signs of the old railroad bed are still visible. The plant closed in 1914 and in 1916 the Stearns and Culver Lumber company was organized and purchased the Marshall Butters buildings in this community.

In 1922, the Ford Motor company bought the holdings of Stearns and Culver and brought up timber holdings in Baraga and Marquette county amounting to more than a half million acres. In 1923 the road was moved to its present location and changed to a standard gauge railroad.

Most of the timber in the vicinity of the railroad has been cut and changing and laying new track in the tough Huron Mountain country is quite expensive.

In changing to truck hauling, the company will not only be saving its own product but will be saving in the costs of building railroad.

With present modern methods truck trails can be made cheaply and fast, and without huge maintenance costs.

Despite the heavy influx of ex-G.I.s, their wives and babies, the big Eastern colleges are maintaining their weekend partying traditions, according to two Dartmouth seniors writing in the August College issue of "Made-moiselle."

At West Point, the big weekend is Christmas with its formal hops. The visiting corps's reaction is that "those brass buttons on the cadets' full-dress uniform make dancing like waltzing with a washboard."

At Williams, (which Ozzie Walsh will attend), quite a few men take their dates to classes on Saturday morning because the profs usually slant their lectures to make it interesting for visiting girls.

Mary Dell Chartrand was one of the girls from Delta county, who took part in the 4-H dress revue held at Camp Shaw, Chatham, Mich., recently. Mary didn't quite place as one of the four girls who received a trip to Lansing, but she was one of the top nine girls in the Upper Peninsula. She will be a sophomore at Escanaba high school in the fall.

By the way, the above information was sent to us by some of Mary's friends. If you or any of your friends in the teen-age set are participating in events of interest to other teen-agers, please call or send us the information.

Tells Of Experiences
Along Alcan Highway

Living costs high in Manistique?

Well, maybe, but they are nothing compared to those wayfarers along the Alcan Highway are forced to fork over for common necessities.

So writes Donald Archambeau of Cooks, who with Donald Jeurnamay, of Reed City left here for Alaska about three weeks ago.

When last heard from they were on the Alaskan Highway, near Fairbanks and stated that at that point gasoline was 71 cents per gallon, haircuts $2, and meals in about the same comparative ratio. Dawson Creek, at the start of the highway, they described as a town of about three thousand population of 15,000 with construction workers making up a large percentage of the population. In the center of this town's main street is a marker designating the spot as the highway's start.

The 485-mile stretch of road between Edmonton, Alberta and Dawson Creek "was awful," says Don. The road, he says, winds around mountains and in some places has been almost washed away. "I'd sure hate to go over some of those embankments as they are a long way down to the bottom," he says.

"There are quite a few tourists and people who are looking for work going both ways," he writes. "We met quite a few of them when we camped along the highway. They are traveling by car and by trailer."

Archambeau and Jeurnamay are looking over Alaska their trip having been planned when they were in the service in World War II. They plan to stay about three months and have planned their return trip by way of Washington and Oregon where they plan to engage in some more sight seeing. "We have had considerable good luck in fishing," Don writes. "We have had a lot of good fish to eat and, I guess it gets better as you go farther up the highway."

The boys expressed themselves as well satisfied with their experience thus far in spite of the high price of gasoline and other accommodations and services.

Many Automobile
Mishaps Reported
Over Week End

Wet paving and heavy traffic are held responsible for a number of motor mishaps occurring in this area over the weekend.

About 12:45 Saturday afternoon a car driven by Edward Skares, of Miami, Florida, skidded on wet pavement and left the road about a mile west of Garden Corners. Mrs. Geraldine Skares, wife of the driver, was taken to the Shaw hospital and received treatment for shock.

About 4:15 Saturday afternoon not far from the scene of the first accident, wet pavement was again responsible for an accident. A car driven by Oliver Hamble, of Big Bay, Wis., crashed into the rear of a car driven by Louis Walter, of the Garden vicinity. Hamble had slowed his car because a truck just ahead of him had signalled a turn into the driveway. No one was injured but both cars sustained considerable damage.

About 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning, on Highway U. S. 2 near Gould City, Joseph Maister, of Detroit, lost control of his car and it left the road and was badly wrecked. Mrs. Eleanor Provost, of Chalmers; and Mrs. Maister were injured. They received first aid treatment at Gould City and were later taken, by ambulance, to Detroit.

About the same time on the same highway, six miles east of Manistique, a car driven by Bernard Case, of Detroit, crashed into a truck driven by Richard Letson, of Gulliver, Letson, according to the police report, had failed to signal a turn off the highway. Both men were given tickets, Letson for failing to signal the turn and Case for not having his car under proper control.

Two minor accidents, involving scraped fenders, are also on the local police report for Sunday.

Extend Official Invite To Straits Celebration

The Misses Alice West, of Marquette, and Mary Gallagher, of St. Ignace, along with their chaperones, Miss Sallie Backie and Mrs. Louise Everson, of St. Ignace, paid Manistique and Blaney Park informal calls Sunday afternoon. Miss West, was recently crowned "Miss Straits of Mackinac" and Miss Gallagher "Miss St. Ignace" and their visit here was in the nature of an official invitation to the people of this vicinity to the St. Ignace Homecoming, August 13, 14 and 15. While here they were guests of the Schoolcraft-Manistique Chamber of Commerce.

The St. Ignace Homecoming, they explained, has a two-fold purpose; that of celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of the institution of continuous ferry service between St. Ignace and Mackinac City and the opening of the Cut River Bridge. In connection with the latter, Miss West will have the honor of cutting the ribbon which opens this new stretch of highway to traffic and makes available one of the grandest vistas to be seen in Upper Michigan.

Since Miss West's recent coronation as queen at St. Ignace, July 31, she Miss Gallagher and their chaperones have been on tour, popularizing the big three-day holiday which St. Ignace has arranged. Their travels started with a plane trip to Lansing and Detroit and on their return from this they have visited and been officially entertained at Sault Ste. Marie, Newberry, Munising, Marquette, Gladstone, Escanaba, Iron Mountain, Manistique and Blaney Park.

As a memento of their visit the ladies presented Manistique residents at the luncheon at attractive medals commemorating the twenty-five years of ferry service between the upper and lower peninsulas.

The party was officially welcomed by Walter Nelson, Chamber of Commerce president.
